Long post title with shortlink (short enough to "tweet"): 4th Quarter 2016 Review Part 1, of Who's Pushing Things "First 5" \(and K12\) Public School "Transformation" \(Sticky, published 12-13-2016\)

Short link to Part 2 (similar title, "4th Quarter 2016 Review, Part 2, of Who's Pushing Things "First 5" \(and K12\) Public School "Transformation," incl. Ounce of Prevention Fund \(Sticky, publ. 12-13-2016\)). Link will be provided again at the bottom of this post again, both published the same day. The proportional split is about $\frac{1}{3}$ Part 1, here, and $\frac{2}{3}$ Part 2, there. Because of the last-minute decision to split, some references here such as "in this post below" may actually refer to Part 2.

The decision to split was made after discovering important information about an organization called NACCRRRA, whose former Executive Director is now positioned high up in the Head Start/Early Head Start and Child Development Fund position at HHS, which is explained on this post. Looking through that situation I was transfixed with the scope, centrality, and purpose demonstrated in the associated tax returns, and spent almost two days going through them, and posting/annotating several images to the blog.
