"PCADV" is one of the older? and better-funded state-wide coalitions, in the capital of the Commonwealth of PA. At HHS (as to grants-making) it was one of four Special-Issue Resource Centers. I have blogged it (including some USDOJ/OVW Audits).

This must be the only one on the list which is NOT a private 501©3 but (apparently) part of government. Question — common sense says that in a list featuring state names, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico" should be named — but this printout doesn't even bother to spell out "Puerto Rico" and put it in the title. Why didn't NCADV webmaster (or content supplier) even bother to get that right?

Correct title: "Office of the Women's Advocate"
"Advocate" is singular, and there is no "The."
