2017 Superintendent Preparation Series Academy (SUPES)

HOME > Professional Development > 2017 Superintendent Preparation Series Academy (SUPES)

The Michigan Leadership Institute is registering participants for the 2017 SUPES Academy – the Superintendent Preparation Series Academy. SUPES is a comprehensive leadership development experience that prepares individuals who will be the next “class” of superintendent candidates—those considering the pursuit of positions in the year 2017 or thereafter.

Searching “Michigan Leadership Institute” as a major and original subcontractor for one of at least two Eli Broad-run (initially “BroadCenter.org”) related nonprofits funded by the Broad Foundation.

Target participants are people with the potential to be outstanding educational leaders who are considering applying for their first superintendency during the coming year or thereafter. The Academy will accommodate up to 45 participants. Participants must commit to attending every class session and completing assignments between classes.

(Total cost is $1,100 each. I'm** wondering whether this “SUPES Academy” is the one that received a $20M no-bid contract with Chicago Public Schools (but as run from a wealthy Chicago suburb, Willmette) which eventually resulted in a felony conviction (for fraud) of THE CEO of Chicago Public Schools (Byrd-Bennett). The name “SUPES Academy” is the same.

The Academy will be held over four two-day sessions, beginning at noon the first day through 5 p.m. on the second day of each session: ** (for the record, “I”= {and these annotations are © 2017} Anna Victoria Englund (see FamilyCourtMatters.org)
